

In a world where relationships that are meant to be intimate seem to be bursting at the seams, where husbands and wives separate and divorce so easily, and where those in courtship face so many challenges as to give up on the idea of intimacy in life, is there any hope for those in the twenty first century building and having a lasting, fulfilling & intimate relationship with one partner?

The answer to this question will largely depend on where we turn to for principles on building an intimate relationship. If we turn to the world we will not see any encouraging report however if we turn to THE WORD we will get sound & lasting wisdom on how to build intimate relationships that shall stand the tests of time. The wisdom shared in this book is for those in courtship, those married and those who conduct marriage seminars.
